

Innoviti Launches trueMonitor™ Presence Monitoring Solution

Bangalore, Jul 2008: Innoviti Embedded Solutions, a leading provider of transaction processing solutions today announced the launch of its trueMonitor™ presence monitoring solution. Presence monitoring deals with monitoring the time and attendance of employees of an organization for efficient management of their human resources.

trueMonitor™ is a unique integrated solution for real-time, foolproof mechanism for monitoring attendance of employees. It comprises of a front-end data capture device (trueID) that uses biometrics for logging attendance in a foolproof manner, a backend processing engine (trueServer) that based on rules set by the HR department of an organization processes attendance, leave records and overtime and also presents consolidated reports. It also integrates an alert engine that can send attendance log based alerts to employees, their supervisors and HR.

trueMonitor uses Innoviti's Vx610-trueID-GPRS portable, wireless, biometric devices to log attendance at an organization's offices. These devices connect to Innoviti's trueServer biometric server over GPRS for logging the transaction. The server also allows for logging of attendance through mobile phones for field staff, using a mobile number as an identifier. The server is seamlessly connected to the mobile and Internet networks for providing alerts such as for attendance logged, late entry, early exit, with automatic reporting to employees, their supervisors and HR. Employee IDs are linked to their biometric signature allowing for verification from any office of an organization for a mobile work force. Biometric authentication allows for prevention of buddy-punching (a buddy logging in for an employee). The backend server allows for the HR department to set rules for alerts and get reports. The system also provides for summary information for leave liability planning as per AS15 accounting standard of ICAI.

“Statistics indicate that productivity loss due to buddy-punching, late arrivals, absence on field and early exits result in productivity loss by as much as 30% in sales staff and up to 18% in operations. An efficient presence monitoring service can help control this by as much as 10% resulting in significant improvement in company productivity. trueMonitor is a unique integrated solution from Innoviti that addresses this effectively,” said Saket Pandey, Assistant Vice President – Sales, Innoviti.

trueMonitor solution is available on a sale as well as pay-per-use (ASP) model.
